

Alacriti FedNow Early Adopter Program

The FedNowSM Service is an instant payment service developed by the Federal Reserve Banks “to enable financial institutions of every size and in every community across the U.S. to provide safe and efficient instant payments services in real time, around the clock, every day of the year.” The targeted release of the FedNow Service has now been narrowed down to July 2023, making it even more practical to start executing a real-time payment strategy today.

Alacriti is here to make it easy, fast, and cost effective to connect your financial institution to the FedNow Service with our Early Adopter Program.

WHY USE ALACRITI TO CONNECT

Alacriti is the first Fintech certified by the Federal Reserve to connect financial institutions to the FedNow Service.

Alacriti's Cosmos Payments is an end-to-end solution that automates payments through initiation and settlement, enabling financial institutions to unify payment processing all in one system. On one cloud-based platform, you have access to:

- FedNowSM Service
- TCH's RTP[®] network
- ACH
- The Fedwire[®] Funds Service
- Visa Direct

Cosmos Payments provides everything needed to achieve true payments modernization. It is:

- Flexible, secure, and reliable: Allowing you to unleash faster innovation at lower costs
- Seamlessly integrated with both legacy and best-in-breed platforms: We work with what you have, including your core
- Built on modern, API and microservice-based architecture: Making it easier to accelerate payments modernization and making updates possible without disrupting the entire system
- Based on ISO 20022 standards: A common global language making it simple to integrate with other systems
- Powered by ready-to-ship libraries of products, integrations, and accelerators: Providing best in class speed-to-market

WHY NOW:

From now until May 31, 2023, Alacriti is offering the following to financial institutions looking to connect to the FedNow Service:

- Preferred Pricing
 - 50% off the 1st year's subscription fees
 - 50% off the implementation fees
